CAREER TIPS

Event management includes a variety of functions for executing large-scale events, which might include conferences, conventions, concerts, trade shows, festivals, and ceremonies. It involves handling the overall logistics of the event, working with staff, and conducting project management of the event as a whole.

Eligibility to become Event Manager

- ✓ Graduate Degree Courses: For BBA and BA courses in event management candidates must have passed class 12th with minimum 50% marks.
- ✓ Diploma, Certificate and PG Courses: For diploma/certificate in event management courses candidate must have 45% aggregate in class 12th marks.
- ✓ You can apply for PG Diploma courses after pursuing graduation (any field) with a minimum of 50% marks. Admission to PGDM and PGPM programmes is done on the basis of national level entrance exams such as CAT, MAT etc.

Employment Opportunities for Event Manager:

- PR Firms
- Event Management Companies
- Fashion Shows
- Weddings
- Concerts
- Product Launches
- Television Based Events
- Corporate Events
- Advertising
- Entertainment and Communications
- Hospitality Firms.

Skills needed to be an event manager:

In addition to being creative, hard-working and a people person, you'll also need some of the following event management skills:

- ✓ Excellent organization
- ✓ The ability to multitask
- ✓ Good communication and people skills
- ✓ Have a creative approach to problem-solving
- ✓ A high level of attention to detail
- ✓ The ability to work under pressure and meet tight deadlines
- ✓ Good negotiation, sales and marketing skills
- ✓ Budget awareness
- ✓ High degree of energy
- ✓ PR skills are a great bonus.

Tips to help you start your career in events:

- ✓ Be up-to-date with market trends
- ✓ Know what events companies are right for you
- ✓ Network: Social media makes networking easier than ever before. Sign up to Twitter and LinkedIn and start following and connecting with industry influencers, event companies and relevant people. Listen to what they say and interact with them where you can. Once you've built that online relationship, be brave and contact them directly asking for advice or potential job vacancies. Learn how to use social media to network by reading our guide.

- ✓ Be creative at the interview

Benefits of working for an event management agency:

If you're starting out in the industry, working for an event management agency is ideal. You'll get to work in a creative atmosphere with people who share your passion, you'll learn straight from the experts and gain that valuable experience that you need to progress in your career.

Benefits of working in-house event management:

Working in-house on company events means that you'll become an expert on your 'client', knowing the ins and outs of the company you work for. In-house events teams are often smaller, meaning that you'll get to experience the total variety that an event management role can offer.

Benefits of being a freelance event manager:

It would be challenging for anyone to graduate from an event management course and start working as a freelancer without experience or contacts. Ideally, you need to get a year or two of experience under your belt working for an event agency or in-house event department. Once you've gained that essential experience, the freelance world is your oyster.

10 benefits of being a freelance event manager:

- Flexible working days and hours
- You can choose your own clients
- Your overheads are lower so you could earn more
- You have creative freedom
- You can choose your diversity of work
- You choose the services you offer
- You're able to work remotely
- There's a high demand for freelancers
