Career Information:

Career in Market Research

What is Market Research: Market research is a marketing technique that collects information about consumers and their choices, usually through surveys, analysis and interprets the information before providing it to clients to help in decision making. It is the process of determining the viability of a new service or product through research conducted directly with potential customers. Market research allows a company to discover the target market and get opinions and other feedback from consumers about their interest in the product or service. This is the process of discovering and understanding the characteristics of people who will buy the product.

Eligibility Criteria: Market research analysts have a bachelor's degree in any of the following: marketing, statistics, computer science, math, social science, business administration.

Certifications are voluntary but strongly recommended, as they help demonstrate professional competency. The Marketing Research association provides training and certification to those who qualify.

Skill Required: Market Research is a right field for you if you have a * Keen analytical mind, * Love meeting new people, * Good social skills, * Numerical ability, * Skilled in time management, * Good communication skill.

Market research certification courses in India:

- Certifies Research Analyst (CAR)
 - Certificate in Market and Social Research Practice
 - Professional Researcher Certification
 - Graduate certificate in marketing analytics and market research
 - Post graduate certificate Programme in Market Research and Data Analyst
- Market research executives are normally MBAs with specialization in marketing, while those handling data interpretation would need to be post graduates in sociology, psychology or anthropology, social work and related fields.

Study Route: One can clear class XII in commerce and then pursue BA Economics, Statistics, B.Com, BBA followed by MBA in Marketing Research. OR Clear class XII in any stream and pursue B.Sc Marketing (Hons) or BBA (Marketing Specializations), BA Economics, Statistics, B.Com, BBA followed by Diploma course in Marketing.

Career Opportunities: Today, market information is required in practically every kind of organization. Govt. departments too have realized the importance of getting information on the public opinion. Political parties use market research to conduct opinion polls. Television channels use market research to find out the popularity of programmes through television rating points (TRPs). Market research analysts are the backbone of all crucial business strategies. They have to play varied roles to understand and improve the sales of a firm. Market research professionals can work in the following profiles depending upon their interest, expertise and skill-sets:
